The National Student Loan Data System (NSLDS) indicates that you have one or more Federal Student Loans discharged because of total and permanent disability. If a borrower whose prior loan was discharged due to a total and permanent disability wishes to take out another Federal Student Loan, the borrower must obtain a physician’s certification indicating that he/she has the ability to engage in substantial gainful activity*.

* Substantial gainful activity is defined as a level of work performed by an individual for pay that involves doing significant physical and/or mental activities.

INSTRUCTIONS:

Before you can be considered for additional federal student loans, you must complete the following steps:

1. Attach to this form a physician’s certification that you have the ability to engage in substantial gainful activity*
2. Complete a Federal Student Loan Discharge Statement Form each time you receive a new loan.
3. Provide any additional documentation that may be required; check OASIS frequently.

I certify that the information I submit for review is true and correct to the best of my knowledge. I have read this document and have provided the required documentation. I also understand that providing false information may result in reduced eligibility, repayment of aid, or both.
